Gallery of Goddesses I: Athena

Today's Athena is born not of woman's womb
but of Father Consciousness.

This daughter of man from Monday to Friday
chastely climbs the ladder.

And on the weekend
she rescues the broken heart behind her starched white shirt.

Gallery of Goddesses II: Lilith

Lilith was man's first partner
the fallen primeval angel who,
when Sky God and Adam
commanded her to serve, uttered woman's first NO.

You must be mother and muse, they said.

You may suck my clit,
she said.

So Sky God and Adam banished her to the alleys and wilderness where she found comfort with saints and beggars.

Then Father Law used her to warn women to keep their pride and sexuality in check.

And Father Law used her to sanction mankind stealing riches from women and nature.

So feared was Lilith's primal demand
for justice and survival

that men and women
pushe her out of mind to the badlands of resistance.

Lilith comes now
not to comfort us
but to reveal
her dark heart.

Flo Sicoli

Multiple Choice

New mind game: replace
dated individualism,
centrefold lust,
ing-on-the-cake,
churchgoing premiums:

A Amway — pyramid to success B Sex-therapy — positional flexibility C Creative divorce — positive solo pillow talk D Charismatic renewal — how to lay hands on heaven

When your mind-expanding face wavers back at you
from a stagnant pool, choose one of the following and chant:

Blessed be

that saves us from

May we always

and may we never lest we

so that we may be all the days of our lives. Amen.

Flo Sicoli

Kathy Fretwell